The decrease was mainly due to promotions and markdowns taken to improve our inventory position, and a $0.9 million one-time charge to establish a reserve against the Company's Team Division inventory as a result of selling the business.

Store operating, selling and administrative expenses were 23.2% of net sales for the 14-week period ended February 3, 2018, level with 23.2% of net sales for the 13-week period ended January 28, 2017. As expected, the recent tax reform legislation did not have a significant impact on earnings in the fourth quarter.

Jeff Rosenthal, President and Chief Executive Officer, stated, "We continue to expand our customer base by connecting with more and more customers through e-commerce and selective new store growth. Ease of shopping continues to improve across both channels, and we are expanding our assortment every day to better serve our customers. We will continue to place a significant focus on omni-channel in Fiscal 2019, which will bring exciting new functionality to improve the shopping experience and to help us improve the long-term profitability of the business."
